CargoWise edi Announces Strategic Alliance with PC Plus
- Alliance Enhances CargoWise edi Presence in Canadian Marketplace -

Chicago, Illinois, USA, July 1, 2008 — CargoWise™ edi, a leading provider of integrated international supply chain logistics management systems, announced that it has signed a strategic alliance with PC Plus, a Quebec, Canada-based supplier of IT and consulting services for the air cargo and transportation industry.

The agreement enables PC Plus to jointly market CargoWise edi's flagship edi*Enterprise* software product throughout Canada, combining CargoWise edi's strengths in the global freight forwarding market with PC Plus's 20-year history and knowledge of the Canadian business environment and its transportation, logistics and IT services needs.

Eric Crespin, previously Vice President of PC Plus, has joined CargoWise edi as Vice President, Business Development – Canada. In his new responsibility, Mr. Crespin and his team at PC Plus will continue to support the Viva!Freight customer base and add edi*Enterprise* local support and training services to that skill set. Eric will also direct CargoWise edi's expanded sales and marketing efforts throughout Canada and he and his team will assist CargoWise edi in integrating Viva!Freight features and Canada specific product attributes into its edi*Enterprise* platform

The alliance will benefit PC Plus and CargoWise edi customers throughout Canada, by providing forwarders, customs and logistics service providers with access to the highly automated, modular enterprise-class system offered globally by CargoWise edi.

Richard White, CEO of CargoWise edi said: "This alliance with PC Plus is a major movement forward in the development of our Canadian software business. Eric brings a tremendous amount of experience and a strong sales and marketing ability to our objective of providing our North American customers with upgraded network management capabilities, while growing our Canadian market and offering the very best enterprise-class software available regionally and globally."

Mr. Crespin added that: "We are very excited for the many advantages that such an alliance brings to our expanding customer base at PC Plus. This association will provide a great opportunity to work with a true global leader such as CargoWise edi, and enables us to better serve our entire customer base with enhanced enterprise-class software solutions."
